TRADERS SEEK PARKING HELP

Chamber prepares to enlist charges support from allies

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER Chamber of Commerce will seek active support for its parking campaign from its east Devon counterparts.

East Devon District Council (EDDC) car park charges have been a pet hate of Axminster traders for some time.

The issue has featured regularly on the chamber agenda, and a decision to seek a wider audience and support has been taken.

The chamber met for a monthly meeting on Tuesday, February 8th — and members decided to seek the support of other chambers in east Devon.

As a first step, the Axminster chamber will approach the Association of East Devon Chambers of Commerce.

The aim is to get the parking on the agenda of a meeting - or to convene a meeting especially for the parking matter - with a view to make a joint representation to EDDC.

Apart from charges, the Axminster traders are also concerned about maintenance and safety of the car parks in winter.

Axminster Chamber of Commerce treasurer Ian McMurtry said: "We can discuss it until we are blue in the face.

"Unless we do it together, they [EDDC] won't listen."

As an example of their grievance, Axminster chamber members pointed out that it is possible to park all day (8am-6pm) for £1 in nearby Lyme Regis' Holmbush facility, which belongs to West Dorset District Council.

In Axminster, on the other hand, £1 will only buy motorists one hour's worth of parking - with the exception of the Coombe Lane car park, where the rate is 50p per hour.

Axminster trader and chamber member Chris Painton said EDDC's car park charges are dissuading people from coming to towns, leading them to internet shopping instead.

When asked what he hoped to achieve for Axminster with the campaign, Axminster Chamber of Commerce chairman Shane Morgan replied: "A fairer system across car parks so visitors and local shoppers can enjoy staying in our town at a similar tariff to Lyme Regis.

"At the charges they [EDDC] set, visitors and locals choose other towns for their shopping."

◆ COMBAT Engineer Sapper Lyndon Chatting-Walters with an off-duty Afghan police officer

Local soldier responsible for Afghanistan projects

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

A YOUNG Axminster man is responsible for a number of building projects during his second tour of duty in Afghanistan.

Combat Engineer Sapper Lyndon Chatting-Walters is deployed in Helmand province as part of 23 Engineer Regiment (Air Assault), Corps of Royal Engineers.

The 20-year-old former Axe Valley Community College student is responsible for building projects such as the construction of defensive positions, building bridges and the fortification of compounds, often whilst under enemy fire.

Despite the obvious danger, Sapper Chatting-Walters enjoys his job.

He explained: "I enjoy my job because I get to travel, get paid well, and get to work with a great bunch of blokes."

"But I'm also very proud of the difference we are making."

"It's really rewarding to know that you're part of a team which is making things better here and making a difference, not only for this country but for the UK as well."

"Since the last time I was here in Afghanistan in 2008 a lot has changed. There are fewer improvised explosive devices than last time and the locals are more friendly — as if they understand why we're here and what we're doing a lot better now."

"It's also colder than my last tour which was in the summer."

He joined the Army in 2006 and is also involved in crucial construction projects, including a road building project which is giving troops the freedom of movement they need to protect local communities and fight the Taliban.

An Army spokesperson said: "Once completed, the road will help to kick-start the economy in Helmand province which in turn will encourage local people to reject the Taliban."

"British troops are in Afghanistan to drive out the insurgency and to improve security for the local population, while at the same time training up their Afghan counterparts who are increasingly taking over responsibility for maintaining security in their own country."

"The ultimate aim is to ensure that Afghanistan can never again become a safe haven for international terrorists who threaten the UK and the western world."

Sapper Chatting-Walters' mother Sharon, brother Glennon and girlfriend, 18-year-old Nicole Anderson, all live in Axminster.

Amongst the highlights of Sapper Chatting-Walters' career is completing P Company, the Army selection course for airborne forces.

In his spare time, he enjoys rugby, cricket, sailing and snowboarding, and plays for Sidmouth Rugby Club and Devon County Cricket Club.

New year, new cheques for five charity groups

FIVE local organisations went away with cheques of varying amounts after having attended Axminster and District Lions Club's first meeting at its new venue, Ridgeway Country Hotel.

No less than £1,000 went to the Children's Hospice South West, which will be added to contributions from other Lions clubs in the area.

The combined donations will provide a room for parents to stay in to be called The Nookery.

Mary Ashby received £500 towards ARC Bereavement Counselling Service, which has already helped over 600 local people through grief and loss.

Margaret Spencer Brown explained that the £150 she received for Axminster Memory Café would not only help those with — or worried they might have — Alzheimer's Disease, but also provide support for their carers.

Elizabeth Lynn had some positive news about the work of Axminster Alternative Job Club.

She said they had had some success in placing people in employment but also in bringing back a smile to their faces and some fun in their lives.

The Lions club donated £150 to the alternative job club and Elizabeth will be talking in more detail to the Lions members during their April meeting.

The final presentation was for £100 to girl guide Emma Franklin, who will attend an education project in Namibia.

In addition, Axe Vale and District Conservation Society received £50 towards a new bird viewing hide on the Axe Estuary.

The club will make more presentations over the next few weeks, and a spokesperson said: "All this has been possible because of the generosity of local citizens who have been so remarkable in these difficult times."

"A very big thank you to you all."

Town clerk investigation

SEATON mayor Bob Palacio was expected to make a statement, as Pulman's View went to press, on Monday evening regarding the suspension of town clerk David Mears.

Former town clerk Philip Higginson has taken over Mr Mears's duties on a temporary basis.

Mr Higginson would only say that Mr Mears has been suspended on full pay to allow a full investigation to take place.

Mr Higginson said the investigation is handled by councillor Graham Jones.

Councillor Jones would only say that mayor Bob Palacio was expected to make a statement at a council committee meeting on February, Monday 14th.

Mayor Palacio has not replied to requests for comment.

Store's road closure dates

TESCO has confirmed the dates of road closures in Seaton.

As previously reported in this newspaper, the supermarket giant will need to close Harbour Road and Riverside Way during the construction and dismantling of a pipeline that will bring infill material from the seabed to the Tesco site.

Riverside Way will be closed on Tuesday, February 22nd, and Harbour Road will be closed on Thursday, February 24th.

The pipeline will be dismantled in April and Harbour Road will be closed on Wednesday, April 13th. Riverside Way will be closed on Friday, April 15th.

SPECIAL NEWS FEATURE: AXMOUTH TRAFFIC PROTEST...

VILLAGERS CALL

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

RESIDENTS in Axmouth took to the streets on Tuesday last to protest against Heavy Goods Vehicles (HGV) passing through the village.

According to the protestors, three 44-ton vehicles were allegedly making their way to the Tesco site in Seaton in the early hours of Monday morning (February 7th) — the protestors now want a weight restriction banning vehicles weighing over 7.5 tons from passing through the village.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Tesco has been given permission to build a supermarket on the regeneration site in Seaton. The site will have to be raised and infill material is being transferred in — via a pipeline — from the seabed.

However, one of the conditions imposed upon the supermarket giant is that any traffic associated with the construction of the pipeline and the supermarket should not pass through Axmouth.

Dozens of people gathered during the protest at Coronation Corner, opposite the Axe estuary, to vent their anger.

Morag Steven, whose property has been damaged by lorries passing through Axmouth in the past, said: "The first lorry came through the village at 4.10am then another one passed through at 4.35am and again at 5.30am.

SPECIAL NEWS FEATURE: AXMOUTH TRAFFIC PROTEST... FOR BAN ON HGV

"I spoke to one of the lorry drivers and he said he had been told to go through Axmouth. Apparently the site manager had told him to go this way (through Axmouth). We have 17 listed buildings in the village. It is really annoying."

Carol Rapley, chair of Axmouth Parish Council, said: "There is a lot of strength of feeling about this in Axmouth. We have tried all means to stop this from happening. None of the routes into Seaton are really suitable for heavy vehicles."

"The problem with this is that it contravenes planning conditions imposed upon Tesco. Everyone objected to the lorries coming through Axmouth yet it still happens."

Alison Hill, who has three young children, said she was concerned about road safety and added: "It is appalling. Planning conditions have been violated and someone needs to be held accountable."

"If lorries continue to pass through Axmouth it will be very unsafe for children crossing the road."

The protestors marched from Coronation Corner to the village gateway and back. Several cars were backed up through the centre of the village. A highway maintenance van and two HGVs also came across the protest.

Jon Underwood, Axmouth resident and Liberal Democrat parliamentary spokesman, said: "We don't know if this is a cock-up or a conspiracy. We don't care whose fault this is — we just want it stopped."

Ian Thomas, district councillor for the village, said: "This is an unusual and disappointing story which should never be happening. Axmouth is a small ancient village. It has been under threat from heavy goods traffic associated with the regeneration of Seaton, including a new Tesco store, since East Devon District Council (EDDC) approved the application for the Tesco store in September 2009,

◆ A PASSING lorry faces the protest, above, and signs are placed in Axmouth by the protest group two months before I was elected."

Parish councillors in Colyton have also spoken out against HGVs being routed away from Axmouth and through Colyton (see Pulman's View from Colyton or visit www.colyton-today.co.uk).

A spokesman for EDDC said: "EDDC remains committed to the protection of properties in Axmouth."

"Members of EDDC's development management committee learned of the latest situation on Tuesday afternoon and agreed that urgent steps must be taken to assess the situation and find a solution. They called for a fact-finding meeting to be held as soon as possible with all relevant parties, including the police, county council and Tesco."

"This meeting took place on Friday, February 11th and a detailed assessment of the information is currently being worked through. A new statement will be issued as soon as all parties have agreed how to proceed."

Juliette Bishop, Tesco corporate affairs manager, added: "Over the last few days we have started bringing equipment to the regeneration site in Seaton."

"For each HGV bringing the equipment we are required to request an instructed route plan from Devon County Highways."

"We are aware that some of these instructed route plans have routed HGV vehicles through Axmouth and we are currently working with Devon County Council and EDDC so that a solution can be found."

Single car in hedge crash

A ONE-CAR crash took place near Myrtle Cottage, Musbury, on Wednesday, February 9th.

The incident was reported just before 10pm and a fire crew from Colyton attended the scene.

A woman was free and clear of the crash as the fire crew arrived and the casualty was being attended to by the ambulance service.

Police said the female driver, from the Sidmouth area, suffered slight cuts when her car collided with a hedge on the A358 at about 9.50pm — but did not require hospital treatment.

The Colyton fire crew made the vehicle safe.

Vandalised

A CAR parked in the North Street-Willhayes Park area of Axminster was vandalised in the early hours of Sunday, February 6th.

Police say a wing mirror was forcibly removed and would like to hear from anyone who may have made observations.

The crime reference is KA/11/36 and anyone with information is asked to call 08452 777 444 and ask for Axminster police.

Crew attends

A FIRE crew from Honiton was sent to a report of a crash involving two cars on Tuesday last.

The incident took place on the A375 Sidmouth Road at approximately 10.18am.

The fire crew made the vehicles safe.

New church cafe service

OTTERY St Mary parish church will be the venue for a cafe-style church event on the second Sunday of every month.

The first church cafe took place on Sunday, February 13th, and the organisers are hoping it will encourage people to visit the church.

Reverend Simon Franklin, of the parish church, said: "Sometimes it can be quite daunting entering a church for a service of any type, especially if you don't know what is expected of you.

"Cafe church stands for Church Accessible For Everyone, and the aim of this service is to welcome church and non church goers alike to join together around tables enjoying good coffee and pastries, and to have the opportunity to discuss life issues in a Christian context.

"It will be a very informal gathering with quiet time for reflection and the opportunity to listen to and engage in thought provoking discussions in a safe environment. For children there will be a creche and group activities."

Topics planned for future church cafe sessions include money management, bereavement, parenting and family life, faith and staying healthy.

Guest speakers will also be in attendance during many of the discussions that start at 11am.

Rotary gives £5.5k boost to Scout hall

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@hindlenews.co.uk

THE Rotary Club of Seaton and District has donated £5,500 to the Seaton Scout Hall and the funds will be used to pay for the recently installed new central heating system.

A cheque presentation took place at the Yeoman's Acre Hotel, Colyford, on Monday, February 7th.

Pictured receiving the cheque is rotary president Jean Smith, Simon Davis, Seaton Scout leader Gordon Davis and Liz Knapp, chairman of the Seaton Scout Group.

A spokesman from the rotary club said: "The donation was made in memory of the late Roy Chapple who, until his death in early December, had been a member of the Seaton Rotary Club for over 55 years. It was Roy's inspiration to build the Seaton Scout Hall in 1966 with rotary money and it was mostly due to his drive and effort over the last three years, that enabled the rotary club to build up a special fund to meet the hall's present upgrading programme."

Two volunteers are friends 'diamonds'

TWO loyal stalwarts of Seaton and District Hospital League of Friends have been presented with the organisation's Diamond Award.

Ena Shatwell and Elizabeth Pymont have both been members for more than 16 years — and the Diamond Award is an official recognition of their fundraising and hard work.

League of Friends manager Lycia Moore said: "Ena and Elizabeth have both done so much for the league of friends over the years, and both deserved to have these awards.

"They are both true volunteers and supporters of the league."

Ena went to St James's Palace last year and met HRH Prince Andrew in recognition of her overall volunteering activities.

EDDC gives in to pressure over minutes access

INFORMATION DISPUTE SETTLED

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A LOCAL authority has backed down in a dispute over access to meeting minutes.

Pressure group Communities Before Developers (CBD) submitted a request to East Devon District Council (EDDC) under The Freedom of Information Act, asking for access to EDDC Local Development Framework (LDF) Panel meeting minutes.

The request was denied but CBD complained to EDDC chief executive Mark Williams in January.

The complaint has been resolved and in an e-mail to CBD's Claire Wright, dated February 9th, EDDC deputy chief executive and monitoring officer Denise Lyon explained that LDF Panel meetings are held in private to encourage the free and frank exchange of views of members.

But the e-mail also announced a change of heart, stating: "Although the recommendations from this panel are reported to Development Management Committee and made public in this way, we now feel that this is not sufficient in terms of keeping the public informed and that the background to these discussions, and matters leading to recommendations should also be in the public domain."

"As from February, all LDF panel meeting minutes will be published online, when approved, and all previous minutes will be published online by the end of the month, allowing time for redactions to be made where necessary, and for all parties to be informed that this information will now be made public."

The need for redactions was explained in another passage of the e-mail, stating: "The development of land in the district is of interest to a great many people and, having studied the minutes of these meetings (between 2008 and the present day), we do feel that the content of these discussions should be in the public domain, albeit there are certain parts of some of the minutes that will remain confidential, for reasons of protecting the commercial confidentiality of organisations who have presented information to the panel on occasion."

Claire Wright commented: "It is vital that these minutes are made public because advice provided by this group has led to almost 1,000 homes (in Axminster and at Westclyst) being given planning permission prematurely, using the draft LDF document."

But an EDDC spokesperson took issue with the premature granting claim, saying: "We strongly dispute this. We have stated on a number of occasions that the emerging LDF Core Strategy was not the deciding factor in either of these cases and we can only speculate as to why CBD seem intent on prolonging this myth."

Missing 11-year-old found by Coastguard

AN 11-year-old Honiton boy was rescued by Coastguards after having spent the night on a beach in only a football top and trousers.

It appears the boy was left behind by friends when he couldn't keep up on a walk from Seaton to Sidmouth.

A group of three youths — a 16-year-old, a 10-year-old and the 11-year-old — embarked on the walk on Saturday, February 12th.

The boy was reported as missing that evening, and it was established that he had last been seen at about 5pm.

It is understood that the 11-year-old suffered a leg injury and couldn't keep up with the other two.

Terry Hoare, Beer Coastguard station officer, said: "The other two lads did not wait for him and went home, and he was reported missing on Saturday evening."

"Devon and Cornwall Police had been searching around the Honiton area all night."

"It was not until further information came to light at around 10.30am on Sunday morning that the search moved to the coastal area between Branscombe and Sidmouth.

"Beer and Sidmouth Coastguards along with the Coastguard helicopter were requested to search for the missing 11-year-old, who was known to be wearing only a football shirt and trousers, but no coat."

"The torrential rain, gale force southwesterly winds and tides over night and into Sunday would have made it impossible for the lad to find any shelter, and there were grave concerns for his wellbeing."

An hour into the search, the Coastguard helicopter located the boy near Weston Mouth.

He was said to be very cold, very wet but seemingly otherwise OK.

The boy was checked over by the paramedic onboard before landing at Sidmouth.

He was then taken into the Sidmouth Lifeboat Station to warm up while waiting for the ambulance to transfer him into the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital.

Mr Hoare added: "The conditions on scene were driving rain low, cloud with the rough sea up against the cliffs."

"This was a happy ending that could so easily have been a tragic one."

"When planning a walk of this nature it is essential that you know the tide times, you have the correct equipment — clothing, food and water."

He also said it is important to let somebody else has a phone number for the walkers, knows the expected finish time and is informed when the walk is concluded.

Mr Hoare concluded: "The age group of this party was very young."

"A walk of this distance and the terrain involved make it very difficult for a 10 and 11-year-old."

"This young lad was extremely lucky."

Step closer for community centre

PLANS for a community centre in Honiton look to have taken a step closer to becoming a reality following a meeting of the East Devon District Council (EDDC) executive board.

The meeting was held on Wednesday, February 9th, and district councillors recommended that the Dowell Street car park be made available for the proposed community centre.

Members of the public and press were excluded from the meeting. However, the minutes show that district councillors were in favour of the community centre being sited in Dowell Street.

The minutes of the meeting state: "As a result of preliminary investigations, the Dowell Street site could be used as a viable alternative. The site would have capacity to include servicing arrangements and car parking."

The minutes also state that the site would be made available to the town council on a long lease at less than best value.

Honiton Town Council was set to discuss the issue during a town council meeting held at this newspaper were to press on Monday night.

Brave Ian gets the O-Kay

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@indienews.co.uk

AN Ottery man had a great time when sharing a stage with TV and radio presenter Vernon Kay in front of a 3,000-strong crowd in London.

Ian Chown earned his right to be on stage by being the inaugural winner of the National Football League (NFL) UK's Britain's Unsung Hero Award.

No less than 3,000 fans of American football were at the official NFL UK Super Bowl party in IndigO2 — previously known as The Millennium Dome — on Sunday, February 6th.

The party lasted until the early hours of the Monday morning, and the main attraction was Super Bowl XLV between Green Bay Packers and Pittsburgh Steelers, shown on the big screen.

Guests were treated to an array of entertainment, including a performance by Indianapolis Colts' cheerleaders, who had been flown in for the occasion.

A number of award presentations were also part of the packed programme before the big game.

As previously reported, Ian was nominated for "the brave way he continued to devote himself to the Exeter Demons after suffering facial injuries" in the infamous Ottery tar barrel 'explosion' in 2009.

Ian suffered serious injuries but returned to the sport as soon as he could. His nomination stated: "Not only did he continue as defensive co-ordinator while having to wear special protective items on his face, he stepped up to become head coach of the team and has now set up a youth team at Exmouth College.

"He puts in many hours to the game he loves, he struggles through adversity, but you will never see anything but a smile on his face as he continues to develop and improve the game in the south west of England."

The nomination was made by Ian's friend Lydon Ward-Best, who went to the bash with Ian and his brother, Andrew Chown.

The awards judging panel included well-known TV personality and NFL fan Vernon Kay and BBC Radio commentator Darren Fletcher.

Ian was called up to the stage to receive his award and described the experience as "a bit surreal" but said he could only see the front row of the crowd as the light was so strong.

He described Mr Kay as "a really nice guy" and said he spent about three minutes on stage taking questions from the presenters.

Having had time to reflect on winning the award, he said: "I still can't believe it really. It's a bit of a dream."

His £2,000 prize will be passed on to his chosen cause — a charity called American Football in Devon.

Ian, who supports Detroit Lions, is in the process of setting up a youth team called East Devon Tornados.

He is keen for youngsters to take up the sport and plugged it by saying: "American football is an amazing sport. It is a combination of skill, speed, power, precision and teamwork."

Anyone interested in joining East Devon Tornados can find more information and contact details by visiting the club's Facebook page.

Firm will donate £2 for every clay shoot booking it receives

WYLD Court Clays at Hawkchurch will continue to donate money to Help for Heroes for every booking they receive during February and March.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Wyld Court Clays held a charity shoot for Help for Heroes on Saturday, January 22nd.

More than 35 people took part in the charity event raising more than £250.

Sarah Grimshaw, of Wyld Court, said: "The shoot was so successful we have decided to carry on raising money for Help for Heroes throughout February and March.

"For every person that makes a booking in these months £2 will go to the charity.

"We would also like to do the same for other charities over the next year.

"Our aim is to give everyone a memorable and fun experience of clay pigeon shooting, whether a beginner or experienced.

"We have a number of packages on offer and there is no need to hold a gun licence as all shooters are covered by our instructors' licence.

"Gun hire is available at £5 per session."

We have a great team working with use, including our fabulous family, mum, dad and sister and occasionally our enthusiastic 11-year-old daughter, without whom none of this would have been possible. We pride ourselves on our carefully designed menus, our friendly atmosphere and the personal touch." Owners Melanie and Jean-Baptiste are pictured with other staff members outside the restaurant

Employers join together to prepare job hunting pupils

A STRING of employers have agreed to help Axe Valley Community College students prepare for job hunting.

Work Preparation Day is to be staged in Axminster Guildhall on Thursday, February 17th for which the college has assembled a number of employers who will help students refine the essential skills of CV writing, filling out application forms and writing letters to employers.

In addition, students will also take part in mock interviews.

A dress code will apply during the day and the college's business and enterprise co-ordinator, Bridget Bennett, explained: "Students will be asked to dress in clothes that they feel are appropriate for an interview — no school uniform although they may wish to wear their school trousers and shirts but no jeans or hoodies.

"Some students may feel uncertain about undertaking trial interviews but the whole day will take place in a relaxed and supportive atmosphere."

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THE General Synod of the Church of England has just held its first meeting of the year.

One of the more interesting topics debated were proposals to make the marriage and baptism services more 'user friendly' in order to reverse the trend of falling numbers for both these church services.

How appropriate that this happened within days of the annual remembrance of Saint Valentine, traditionally a celebration for lovers, although its origin stems from two separate people named Valentine, a bishop and a priest, both of whom were martyred for their faith around the year 273.

Another topic considered by the General Synod was a report called Challenges for the new Quinquennium which highlights some of the problems facing the Church of England and the nation, and seeks to prevent faith being seen as a "social problem."

The report expresses concern that Christians face hostility at work and have been punished for sharing their beliefs such as wearing crosses.

It urges local congregations, both clergy and lay, to be more vocal in countering the criticisms.

There is exciting news from west Devon telling how churches in the Okehampton Deanery are facing up to just such concerns.

Emphasis has been placed on local churches serving local people. To do this, despite shortages of clergy, services are held regularly in every church, some provided by locally trained Lay Worship Leaders (LWT).

This has transformed worship in the 24 churches covered, where it has enabled people to worship, regularly, locally and well.

A recent title which may be of help in churches from Grove Books, by former Archdeacon of Barnstaple Trevor Lloyd, is entitled Children at Communion – how to involve children in the Eucharist.

Coming closer to home, Christians Together in Seaton and the surrounding district has announced a series of Lenten services at 6.30pm on Sundays moving round the local churches led by a different minister each week, starting on March 17th at the United Reform Church led by the Revd Jeremy Trew.

Before then, Seaton Parish is opening the Freedom Café again on Saturday, February 19th followed by 3–2–1 for Jesus.

Exeter Diocese Companion of the Anglican Church of Cyprus and the Gulf has just met in Larnaca, Cyprus, for its annual Synod, which was attended, on behalf of Exeter, by Bishop Bob of Crediton accompanied by the chairman of the Exeter Liaison Group. Local churches from Baghdad, Kuwait, the Gulf, Aden and Cyprus were present.

Put documents in public view

EDITOR — I was pleased to read in a recent Pulman's View edition that Tesco's early design for the pipeline bridge in Seaton, which appears to be so unstable, "has been developed into a structurally acceptable design that meets relevant standards."

However, this new design has not been shown to the public.

We examined this early design because it was the only one in the public domain.

We are now keen to see how the early design has developed — not only to improve our understanding of this important structure, but also to confirm that it is fit for purpose.

Newcomers to Seaton might wonder why ordinary residents find it necessary to investigate complex designs produced by a major company.

The answer is that we have done it before, and found major errors which had been overlooked by all the public bodies involved.

In 2006, before Tesco bought it, the Seaton Regeneration area was owned by Liatris Holdings Ltd who planned to raise the land for the same purposes.

Its consultant engineers used outdated regulations for sea-level rise, thereby saving a great deal of money in reduced infill requirements.

This it hid in the middle of 75 pages of arcane calculations hand-written in pencil.

None of the public officials concerned bothered to wade through this almost illegible scribble, and the error would have gone undetected without the efforts of a retired Seatonian who taught himself enough of the jargon to detect the discrepancy and publicise it.

This increased the infill requirement to the current level and enhanced the flood resilience of all subsequent schemes.

It also taught us a lesson about the limited reliability of local authorities. They are not necessarily incompetent or deliberately negligent, but so many demands are made on their limited resources that they tend to assume that large companies do things properly and need not be checked so thoroughly.

Unfortunately, there is plenty of evidence that this is not always the case.

On June 30th 2005 a tunnel being constructed in Gerrards Cross to allow Tesco to build a supermarket collapsed, and construction of a new tunnel did not begin until January 2009.

Although no lives were lost, the railway line was closed the whole time and compensation by Tesco is believed to have cost at least £8.5m.

We don't want any of this to happen in our town. The current government wants local citizens to take more control of local affairs, albeit at no extra cost.

Here is a chance to do so by making all design documents freely available. Seaton is a treasure-house of retired experts from all walks of life willing and able to safeguard the community.

If local authorities share the information instead of hiding it, public safety could be enhanced without any increase in public spending.

With job cuts in the air and local elections coming soon, this must be a win-win situation.

Reflect on a cruel 'sport'

EDITOR — February 1st marked the end of another pheasant and partridge shooting season, a time for readers to reflect on a particularly unsavoury aspect of this cruel 'sport'.

Whilst the industry would like to promote the idea that shooting birds is a natural and productive activity designed to put food on the table.

The savage truth was revealed in the January 19th edition of Shooting Times by the chairman of the Game Farmers' Association, Jonathan Crow.

The cost of presenting a live pheasant to the guns, Crow calculated is £35.

Whereas the value of the dead bird is just 25p. That is, the birds are essentially worthless once dead because there is no market for them.

Their 'value' is to act as a live target for wealthy guns whose pleasure is derived from extinguishing life.

Please visit Animal Aid's website at www.animalaid.org.uk for more information about the cruelty involved in rearing and shooting birds for 'sport'.

An insight into ballet

THE January meeting of the Axminster Ladies Phoenix Club was well supported and the group welcomed two new members.

It briefly discussed venues for the summer and winter outings and a vote will be taken next month. Members will also discuss the charity to support. Last year it raised £300 for Water Aid. It was also encouraged to support the memory cafe.

The speaker this month was Annette Harrison who spoke about the Royal Ballet, her daughter Nathalie is a member. Nathalie started her career, as do most others, by auditioning for a place in the ballet school at White Lodge in Richmond Park.

There are scholarships in place for children with extraordinary talent so children from poor families can attend the school free of charge.

Each year there are assessments and only the best will go on to the senior school at Covent Garden. Nathalie joined the Royal Ballet aged 19 and she regularly tours USA, China, Cuba, Russia and Europe. Two myths were dispelled by Annette, tall girls can be ballerinas and they don't have to eat like a bird.

By the end of a session or performance they are usually ravenous.

The cost of going to the ballet at Covent Garden can be anything from £10 to £50 so it is not as expensive as a lot of people assume.

Annette told members that a ballet dancer's working life was only 15 or so years so at 26 Nathalie is nearly half way through her career. Everyone enjoyed Annette's talk and photographs. Lesley Frankau gave a vote of thanks.

A low attendance at forum's social

AXMINSTER and District Seniors' Forum held its Christmas social at the Church Room, Axminster, on December 13th.

Despite the low attendance it was enjoyed by all the members there. A picture quiz got the little grey cells working and prizes were won.

A seasonal buffet was provided and this was accompanied by a fruit punch. Peter Smart entertained the members by singing Christmas melodies which made a nice finish to the afternoon.

The first meeting of the new year took place at the Senior Citizens' Centre, Church Street on January 10th when Nigel Peasey from the Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service gave a talk.

He explained that he had spent 17 years with Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue and prior to this he was with the Fleet Air Arm.

Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service is the fifth largest fire and rescue service in the country, with 85 fire stations and 2,400 personnel.

He went on to explain that east Devon has the most number of thatched properties and wood burning stoves account for a lot of the fires.

Heat in a chimney breast can reach 600 degrees. Sections of the thatch on the roof once on fire, have to be taken off to stop the fire spreading.

Now compressed air foam is being used to combat the spread of fire. It is injected into the thatch and spreads smothering the flames.

Nigel Peasey went on to tell members that they give advice on planning applications for industrial units.

Hotels and residential places are now 90 per cent covered. They go out to schools educating children aged eight to 16 on the dangers of fire and the 17-18 age group on driving and the results of driving recklessly.

He covered a large number of items from paramedics to fire extinguishers, electrically controlled smoke detectors to building regulations, first responders and fire hydrants. Everyone found the talk extremely interesting.

Sue Waters asked the members for their opinion on the NHS Devon Being Open Public Statement. She explained that it was a policy in the making, a chance for the public to complain when things go wrong. Sue showed the members a brief outline of the various headings and asked for their opinions.

These were to be sent back to Elizabeth Hankin of the Devon PCT.

She explained that Devon County Council (DCC) homes were still being run by DCC because they had been unable to sell them and asked if people were to be funded to stay at home should the homes be used as day centres?

When asked if the members would prefer to stay at home or go into a home the majority were for staying where they were.

Rita Brickill spoke about the assembly and the vacancies for board members.

Also the need for the east Devon groups to meet as cluster groups. It had been discussed that members of each group should volunteer to take on board what is happening in their area.

Funding for the Senior Council is to be linked to five other groups which at that time were unknown.

Opinions on this were awaiting a letter about who the other groups were and what their needs would be.

Interesting family talk

AT the Royal British Legion Women's Section (Axminster) meeting recently, guest speaker John Allen from Tatworth gave an entertaining talk about his family from Tintinhull, near Yeovil.

The family has consisted of blacksmiths, farriers, wheelwrights and undertakers over a period of five generations.

John inherited the old blacksmith's forge which was piled to the rafters with tools, bygone gems and other artefacts.

It took him two months to clear the old forge, dismantling it brick by brick and transferring it to Chard Museum, where it was reconstructed over a 12 month period. It can still be seen there today.

Tintinhull, originally a Saxon settlement, also had Romans residing in the area. It still has a large number of listed buildings in the village but sadly, the original 10 farms have now been reduced to three.

John's grandfather fought at Gallipoli, halting the family business until the end of the Great War. Work eventually resumed until the start of World War II.

Tom Allen, John's father left school at 11 and undertook an apprenticeship to train as a wheelwright, eventually adding hay ladders, dog carts and other farming implements to his list.

At 21 he was the youngest undertaker in the area. The country had over 6,000 wheelwrights in its heyday, which has dropped dramatically to 70.

Fascinating slides and other memorabilia on display proved an inspiration to members to organise a trip to Chard Museum.

The important role of salt, modestly

THE Yarcombe Community Lunch team was welcomed to church on Sunday, February 6th when taking part in the monthly family service.

Keith Goodman, who takes the money on the door, led the worship.

The theme, Salt and Light, taken from the day's reading was interpreted by a cookery demonstration. Pam Foxwell, Michelle Button-Stephens, Heather Newman and Caroline Ford mixed up a cake mixture and were ably assisted by young Beau Matthews.

Lesley Sutton gave a running commentary on the proceedings, explaining the importance of salt (in modest amounts) and flashed a torch around demonstrating light.

Mary Smith led the prayers and Barbara Salter the prayer for the day.

Pat Bright and Eleanor Wright read the two readings.

Joan Ewins gave the address.

The next community lunch will be on Wednesday, February 16th.

Thanks to Christine Howard who offered to help with the refreshments, Margaret Hoare and helpers who help wash and clear up and to Ruby Cooke.

Duo cut off by high tide

TWO people were cut off by the tide east of Lyme Regis on Saturday, February 5th.

A Coastguard spokesperson said: "The people had walked from Lyme Regis to beyond Charmouth, and upon their return found the tide had cut their route off.

"In a lengthy operation in poor weather conditions the Coastguard rescue officers located the casualties and escorted them to safety.

"No medical assistance was required."

Cycle way information

AN information day looking at the plans for the Stop Line Cycle Way, that will pass through Colyford, will be held on Thursday, February 24th.

The event will run from 11am until 7pm and will be held at Colyford Memorial Hall.

Separate information days are also planned for Axminster and Seaton.

Chef's skills

FAMOUS Lyme Regis chef Mark Hix shared his skills with pupils of Oak class at Mrs Ethelston's CE Primary School in Uplyme.

Acting headteacher Mary-Anne Crafter commented: "We are very grateful to Mark and the Chefs Adopt a School organisation for giving the children such a fun time and opening their eyes to the variety of foods that we are able to enjoy — including some rather interesting combinations.

"I never thought I would be saying that I enjoyed golden beetroot jelly."

PECORAMA WILL STAGE A FOLK RELIEF SESSION

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

PECORAMA in Beer is set to play a part in BBC Radio Devon's 24-hour broadcasting Marathon, known as Folk Relief, in aid of Devon Air Ambulance Trust (DAAT).

The radio station is raising money towards a new helicopter for DAAT, and one fundraising initiative is the 24-hour broadcast Marathon starting at 2pm on Friday, February 18th.

Pecorama MD Michael Pritchard explained that the Folk Relief team has arranged for a busking session to take place on the Beer Victoria platform, within the grounds of Pecorama, on Saturday, February 19th commencing at 11am.

He added: "The Orion Pullman car rests alongside the platform and will be open to serve refreshments.

"The idea of the busking session is not only for visitors to enjoy the variety of music, but hopefully they will generously contribute for the new helicopter.

"There should be a number of performers taking part. There will also be some surprise guest groups, some coming from as far as London.

"We hope for a jovial and generous crowd to help soak up a very special and unique atmosphere."

It is anticipated that the buskers will be on stage for two hours.

More information about the radio station's air ambulance appeal is available online at www.daat.org/donate-bbc/.

New group hands over £200 cheque

A GROUP set up only nine months ago to raise money for The Royal British Legion's (RBL) Poppy Appeal in Devon has made a cheque presentation.

Puffin Seekers invited RBL community fundraiser Carole Arnold to The Anchor Inn, Beer, on Thursday, February 3rd.

The cheque came to £200 — the money raised from raffles and a pick-a-card tombola — and takes the group's total to £400 since the start less than a year ago.

Carole was very grateful and also thanked The Anchor Inn for the hospitality.

PTFA hosts a pamper event

STOCKLAND Primary School's Parents Teachers and Friends' Association (PTFA) is hoping for a big turnout for its forthcoming relaxation and pampering evening.

The event is a fundraiser for improvements to the Reception and Class 1 outdoor area.

Stockland Primary School PTFA treasurer Abbe Wheeler said: "Ladies will spend the evening being pampered by local beauty technicians and therapists who are offering taster treatments including reflexology, the Bowen technique, various types of massage, manicures, hair cuts and eyebrow shaping.

"We are also delighted to announce that running champion Heather Foundling-Hawker will be attending.

"Heather has represented Great Britain in ultra distance running for five years and is a qualified sports therapist — and will be attending to offer advice and chat to ladies who attend."

The event will be held on Friday, March 4th between 7.30pm and 9.30pm in Stockland Victory Hall.

Hospital is venue for new course

HONITON Hospital will be the venue for a new course aimed at helping people with long-term medical conditions.

Free support will be on offer for people suffering from conditions such as diabetes, asthma, MS and arthritis.

The course will be launched on Monday, February 28th and will be held every Monday for six weeks, from 2pm until 4.30pm.

A spokesman for NHS Devon said: "The Expert Patient Programme, run by NHS Devon, will help people develop skills, confidence and knowledge, achieving the greatest possible physical capability and pleasure from life, despite living with a chronic health condition.

"The programme is led by trained tutors who themselves have experience of living with a long-term health condition.

"It includes relaxation techniques, dealing with tiredness and feelings of anger and depression, and planning for the future.

"Research shows the benefits of attendance can lead to better symptom control, fewer visits to hospital and an increase in quality of life."

Anyone who would like to attend the course is advised to book in advance by calling 0800 073 0792 or via email at d-pc.EPP@nhs.net.

Big cats talk is a pleasure

LAST week I had the singular pleasure of being invited to address a gathering of members of the Devon Association (DA), meeting in the pavilion, at the sports ground in Colyton.

The subject of my discourse? Big cats in east Devon. But first, what of the Devon Association? Established in 1862, the DA's remit is to bring together people who have similar interests and who wish to participate in the numerous events and activities organised by the committee. If you have an interest in aspects of building, geology, entomology, history, literature, folklore and dialect, all with an association to Devonshire, then the group may well be for you. By bringing together amateurs and professionals in their various fields there is the opportunity to learn and understand more about particular interests through a programme of lectures, meetings and visits.

So, on this particular afternoon I was privileged to speak to a full house of some 30 members of the DA on a subject which I find both baffling and intriguing. For the past 20 or so years I have been gathering notes, press-cuttings and personal letters relating to the existence or otherwise of alien big cats in Britain.

Do they really exist? Are they no more than the result of a wave of mass hysteria or simply a case of mistaken identity? Could black panthers or pumas really be living and, apparently, breeding in this small green island? The idea is ridiculous... or is it?

The number of reported sightings of big cats runs, not into the hundreds, but the thousands. Again and again the descriptions seem to match. The animal is usually larger than a Labrador, jet black, with a small feline head and a long curved tail or, it is of similar build but assumes the sandy brown colouring of a North American puma or cougar. Now there is not the slightest doubt in my mind that a large percentage of the reports are simply cases of mistaken identity and, perhaps, wishful thinking. Black Labradors or other large dusky dogs, melanistic foxes, even muntjac, red foxes and roe may each, if seen for a brief split second, be mistaken for an animal which is now in the public consciousness.

However, there have been so many sightings by experienced observers, some with a deep knowledge of the countryside and its wildlife that to aver, as some do, that these animals simply do not exist is, bluntly, crass.

I know one well-known and regarded countryman and journalist who, because he has never seen a big cat in his part of Suffolk simply refuses to believe that they exist and all the claimants are either liars or fools. Well, that's his opinion, but it is not one with which I can agree. Why, he asks, do we never come across big cat bodies? Why do hunts never disturb and even hunt cats if they exist? The answer, in my opinion, is that these animals are secretive, incredibly nervous and shy, so much so that at the first hint of human presence in their territory they will vanish into deep woodland and as for remains, I suspect, that any cat that dies a natural death will seek the most remote cover where its bones may remain unfound for years, or be scattered by scavengers.

One puma has been trapped in Scotland in 1984 by a farmer, Ted Noble, at Cannich, Inverness-shire, several lynx have been shot and there are numerous photographs of alleged big cats but there still remains to be seen some really convincing video footage. As a matter of interest I asked my audience if anyone there had seen a big cat. Two hands shot up. One gentleman had watched what was apparently a puma at Lambert's Castle, while a lady told me that she saw, quite clearly from the top of a bus, a large black cat standing in a frosted field. Neither witness had the slightest doubt about what they saw.

So there it is! Reports, I am sure, will still come in, especially as here, in the southwest we are it seems in a big cat hot spot and the jury is still out.

◆ UPLYME Morris Men played a leading role at Lyme Regis Museum's annual wassailing celebration. The celebration took place on Saturday, January 22nd and about 50 wassailers joined the fun of wakening the apple trees with loud music and singing led by Adrian Pearson, Ian Thompson and Helen Case. A toast for a good apple harvest was followed by traditional Morris music and dancing outside. Uplyme Morris Men were making a rare winter outing, but even rarer — because there are no women in this Morris side — was their invitation to Helen Case to join in with their resident musicians Ian Thompson and Jim Purvis for the evening

Arts group puts garden influence into programme

AXMINSTER Arts members are in the process of putting together the programme for its Arts in the Garden season, which will run on Saturday mornings and Wednesday lunchtimes throughout June, July and August.

They would like to receive applications from artists interested in taking part.

Axminster Arts committee secretary Jenny Fells said: "The deadline for application is Friday, April 1st."

The season will open on Saturday, June 4th with Clive Smith and his Arcadia Jazz Band

On fine days, events will take place in the octagonal cast iron gazebo, but on days with inclement weather they will take place inside the Old Courthouse.

The Arts in the Garden season is divided into the following three categories:

*Performing Arts: Music, dance and drama events will take place on Saturday mornings or Wednesday lunchtimes. Performers will have the chance to promote their group to the general public and to sell their CDs, if applicable.

*Workshops / Demonstrations: Arts or crafts workshops or demonstrations will take place over Wednesday lunchtimes.

Artisans will have the chance to promote their art group, if applicable, and to sell their arts and crafts *Art and Craft Fayre Saturday, July 2nd: Stalls are free to the artisans, but in the event of too many applications being received, members of Axminster Arts will be given priority.

For more information contact Jenny on 01460 220727 or jennyfells@btinternet.com.

Everything for the weekend

OUT & ABOUT

● EXETER'S incredible history, from the Vikings to Second World War bombers, comes to life with spectacular animation projected on to Exeter Cathedral on February 18th, 19th and 20th. The evening extravaganza, a centrepiece of the Animated Exeter film festival, lights up the historic building with jaw-dropping images with exclusively composed music.

Funded by Arts Council England, the free event is produced by internationally acclaimed London artists Tundra, who are producing an incredible audio-visual celebration of Exeter entitled Isca Obscura.

A play on words, meaning secret or hidden Exeter, with a nod to the Camera Obscura — Isca is the Roman/Celtic name of Exeter and means flowing water while Obscura (Latin) means dark. The work will be projected across the cathedral's north aspect covering up to 80 x 30 metres of the ancient building's outer walls, while interactive projections take place on the west front.

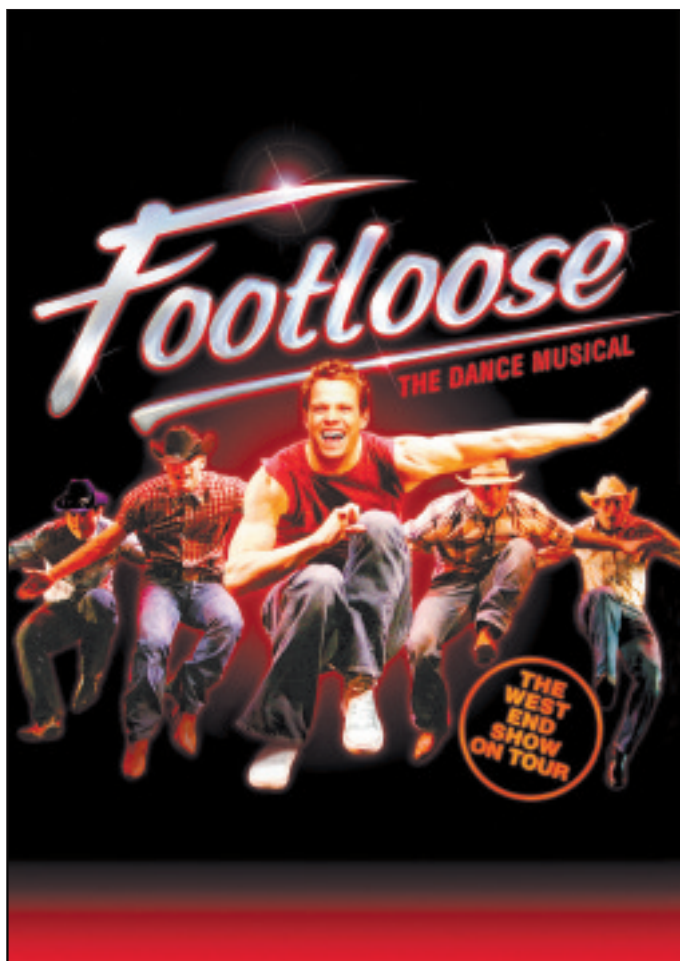

Over the three February nights fantastical imagery will illuminate the cathedral with the city's history, fables, and poetry, drawing on ground-breaking techniques, ranging from shadow-theatre, paper cut-outs to groundbreaking CGI.

Animated Exeter 2011 provides a packed programme featuring work from global animation stars to the hottest emerging local talent.

Festival goers can watch over 140 animation films, as well as attend industry master-classes, exhibitions, workshops, career-planning and a number of other special events. Throughout the festival there are guided sessions introducing the art of animation, with classes about stop-motion and video-mapping techniques.

Animated Exeter 2011 runs until February 26th. Started in 1999, Animation Exeter nowadays attracts crowds of more than 12,000.

80s film takes to the stage

MATT Willis, star of Busted and I'm A Celebrity winner, will headline his first national theatre tour in Footloose — The Dance Musical, the acclaimed dance musical based on the iconic 1984 movie.

Hot on the heels of two triumphant West End seasons and four hugely successful tours Footloose — The Dance Musical cuts loose on its fifth major UK tour and onto the stage of the Theatre Royal, Plymouth, from Monday, February 28th to Saturday, March 5th.

In 1998 Broadway lauded the hit movie live on stage as a musical spectacular.

Written by Dean Pitchford (screenplay and lyrics for the film) and Walter Bobbie, Footloose — The Dance Musical tells the story of city boy Ren who has to move to a rural backwater in America where dancing is banned.

Life in small-town Bomont is peaceful but Ren, breaking every taboo in the book, is determined to bring dance back to the heart of a town held back by the memory of a tragedy.

Featuring a dynamic young cast, this fast-paced show is not only packed full of amazing dance but serves up some classic 80s anthems guaranteed to get you to your feet, including Holding Out For A Hero, Almost Paradise, Let's Hear It For The Boy and of course the unforgettable hit title track Footloose.

An extra tour date

DUE to unprecedented demand for Lee Evans tickets, culminating in his three Plymouth dates selling out within a matter of hours, Plymouth Pavilions have secured a fourth summer date for the rubber faced comic.

Lee Evans will now also appear at the city venue on Wednesday, August 17th as well as on the three sold out dates on Thursday 18th, Friday 19th and Saturday, August 20th.

Comedy superstar Lee Evans will now perform four special 'warm-up' gigs as part of Plymouth Pavilions' 20th birthday celebrations before he heads off on his record breaking Roadrunner arena tour.

Roadrunner is Lee's amazing new show with 63 nights at the biggest arenas in the country.

In fact when the show initially went on sale last year it smashed UK box office records by selling 227,424 tickets in just one day, firmly establishing it as the fastest and biggest day one selling UK comedy tour of all time.

Lee's manic energy, uncanny observations, hilarious delivery and side-splitting material have made his live performances a must-see for comedy fans worldwide.

In 2008 Lee's previous 59 date arena tour, Big, saw him sell out his first show at London's O2 Arena in just 60 minutes, making it the UK's biggest solo live comedy gig ever at that time.

This broke his own previous record from 2005 at the MEN arena where he played to over 10,000 people.

The subsequent DVD release for Big — Live At the O2 broke all previous stand-up DVD sales records when it sold a staggering 259,399 during its first week and became the biggest week one release for a non film DVD of all time.

Lee Evans has won many accolades in the comedy world including the highly coveted 'Perrier Award' and the Time Out Award for Comedy.

He has also experienced huge success as an international film star with a major role in There's Something About Mary (1998) and The Fifth Element (1997).

Tickets cost £30. To book contact the box office on 0845 146 1460 or visit www.plymouthpavilions.com.

OUT & ABOUT

● FOR his company's eagerly awaited return to the Exeter Northcott, Richard Alston has chosen a diverse collection of composers including minimalist icon Steve Reich and 17th century lutenist Denis Gaultier.

Alston's contemporary classic Roughcut — a euphoric display of pure energy — is danced to the cascading peals of Steve Reich's New York and Electric Counterpoints for clarinet and guitar.

Martin Lawrance's tightly sprung Lie Of The Land is danced to modern American composer Ned Rorem's String Quartet No. 4.

Richard Alston Dance Company will be at Exeter Northcott on Wednesday, February 16th and Thursday, February 17th at 7.30pm.

Call 01392 493493 to book tickets or visit www.exeternorthcott.co.uk.

● THE inaugural Colyford ArtsFest — from February 25th to 27th — has Living History as its theme and it was with this in mind that Jilly Spencer devised the Coly Cocktail concert.

The concert starts at 6pm, after refreshments from 5pm, in St Michael's Church, Swanhill Road, Colyford, on Saturday, February 26th.

She describes the evening as a light-hearted view of events in Colyford from the grant of a goose fair in 1208 to descriptions of 20th and 21st century rural life by poets Elwyn Nott-Bower and Jeremy Clarke.

Jilly has assembled a strong line-up for the evening: Ernie Fox, a local actor; Les Baker, Cambridge choral scholar, singer, conductor and clarinetist; Michèle Banting, who trained at the Royal College of Music; Margaret Smith, experienced actress and director; Jan Spencer, Guildhall graduate and a member of The Sixteen, a London-based baroque ensemble; and, last but not least, Jilly herself, with her background in singing (Guildhall), providing music for RSC recitals and performing her history-themed pieces on tour with her late husband, lutenist Robert Spencer.

Tickets are £5 and available from Colyford Post Office.

Museum showcases town's unexpected industrial past

◆ CEMENT kiln demolition

LYME Regis Museum will be showcasing the town's unexpected industrial past in a new exhibition at the Malthouse from February 22nd to March 6th.

Industrial Lyme — An Unexpected History will look at Lyme's industrial heritage which focused around the Lim Valley, from its factories and seven water mills to town services such as gas, water, sewerage, electricity and the now-vanished railway.

Once famous as a wool town, the amount of cloth exported from the Cobb once matched the large imports of wine.

The town's silk industry also has a fascinating history, with child labour its dark secret.

Heavy industry also found an unlikely home in Lyme and iron stoves made in the town won prizes at the Great Exhibition of 1851 at Crystal Palace. Lyme cement was much sought-after by dock companies for underwater building and from Victorian times there was a large cement works and tile factory right on Monmouth Beach.

Lyme also had an oil industry in the form of oil milled from linseed and there was even an unsuccessful attempt to find coal.

The exhibition has been researched and mounted by Lyme Regis Museum volunteers Richard Bull, Ken Gollop and Graham Davies, and includes many historic photographs and extensive new research.

Richard Bull will also be giving two special talks at the museum to accompany the exhibition.

On Thursday, February 24th at 2.30pm he will be talking about The Monmouth Beach Cement Works.

On Saturday, February 26th at 2.30pm he'll tell the story of The Search for Coal under Lyme.

The exhibition is open from 10am to 4pm each day and admission is free.

For more information about the museum and all its events, visit www.lymeregismuseum.com.

MUSIC

● NO More Idols, the second album from drum 'n' bass duo Chase And Status, is out now.

Status, aka Londoner Will Kennard talks about the record and its starry line-up of guests, which includes Cee-Lo Green and Dizzee Rascal, as well as their upcoming March tour — which included a date in Yeovil.

"We were quite apprehensive about playing live before a few years back," begins Will Kennard, the Status half of drum 'n' bass duo Chase & Status — Chase is otherwise known as Saul Milton.

"We'd seen some DJs trying to recreate electronic music live before, and it'd fallen short in our minds, but then [metal/drum 'n' bass crossover merchants] Pendulum showed us that you can recreate those sonics, and take dance and club music to massive stages.

"We thought about how we could make it work, and the first thing was to get a drummer involved — Andy Gangadeen, who has drummed for James Brown, Michael Jackson, Spice Girls, everyone really, and that brought us loads of confidence.

"It was all about getting the same energy that we have in our recorded music over to the live performances."

It would be fair to say, on the evidence of their festival shows over the summer, that their mission has been accomplished. With the help of their numerous singer friends, their forthcoming March tour is not to be missed.

Crucial to their act are Chase & Status's guest vocalists. Their first album More Than A Lot, released in 2008, featured the likes of British rappers Kano and Plan B, before his recent soulful Strickland Banks reinvention, and was a minor hit.

For second album No More Idols, with both credibility and a major label behind them, attracting more varied artists was an easier task.

The duo will be at Yeovil Westlands on March

MELODIC BAND GO GLOBAL

A MELODIC, hardcore punk band — with members from Axminster, Seaton and Chard — is about to tackle the international scene.

Donnie Brasco consists of Dale Higgs (drums), Tom Fiction (guitar), Paul Birks (guitar), Rich Beer (bass), Chris Webber (vocals) and Ric Webber.

They previously played together in a previous formation, known as The Candidates, but changed things around and came together as Donnie Brasco in early 2008.

The band has already enjoyed success, as explained by Chris Webber: "After recording a two-track demo at Stakeout Studios in London, we managed to get some Radio 1 airplay on the Mike Davies lock up show with the track Death Drive.

"We then recorded another two tracks and gained attention from Lockjaw records, who released our first official record.

"The EP is also available for download on iTunes and Amazon, and we have our own on line shop up and running."

Chris and his fellow band members are looking forward to a 10-day international tour this month.

They are joining Grimsby-based band The Departed and Chris said: "It is our first time playing overseas, so we are seeing this as a good chance to get our songs out to a much wider audience and generally have a good time."

The band also has a track included on a Lockjaw Records compilation CD, which will be mounted on the front of Rocksound magazine with selected retailers over the coming months.

Chris concluded: "Our next show in the UK will be a headlining gig on March 9th at The Junction in Plymouth, with As We Sink and FTO in support.

"The plan is also to record and release an eight-track CD before the summer and keep playing as much as we can."

To listen to music by Donnie Brasco, visit www.myspace.com/godonniebrasco.

GNOME TWIST

SHAKESPEARE's tale of star-cross'd lovers and self-sacrifice is given a new lick of paint in Kelly Asbury's fast-paced computer animated comedy.

Set in the gardens of fair Verona Drive, Gnomeo & Juliet pits feuding clans of blue and red ornaments against one another, set to a soundtrack of classic and original songs by Elton John, also the film's executive producer.

Gnomeo (James McAvoy) is a blue, living on one side of the drive with mischievous sidekick Benny (Matt Lucas) and his mute best pal, Shroom.

A chance encounter between Gnomeo and Juliet sows the seeds of true love but her bully boy cousin, Tybalt, would rather mow down a blue than see the two families united in holy matrimony.

Gnomeo & Juliet doesn't outstay its welcome and Asbury draws on his experience directing Shrek 2 to infuse a quintessentially British story with enough broad comedy to ensure the film kicks some grass on the other side of the Atlantic.

McAvoy and Blunt are both sweet but the only vocal performance that stands out is Jensen as an overly dramatic amphibian, looking for someone to share her lily pad.

A little bit too unconvincing

MARLEY Corbett (Hudson) is a vice-president at an advertising agency in New Orleans.

Full of energy and surrounded by great friends including sassy gal pal Sarah (Lucy Punch) and heavily pregnant Renee (Rosemarie DeWitt), Marley has everything to life for — except that she doesn't.

A routine check up at the local hospital reveals shocking news: she has cancer and the disease has spread too far throughout her body for chemotherapy to have any positive effect.

Supported by handsome doctor, Julian Goldstein (Gael Garcia Bernal), Marley comes to terms with impending death, sharing the diagnosis with her clucky mother (Kathy Bates) and emotionally distant father (Treat Williams).

Thankfully, Julian is a tower of strength and as Marley prepares for her passing, she falls hopelessly in love with her medic.

A Little Bit of Heaven reduces most of the audience to snivelling wrecks, orchestrating the goodbyes and reconciliations in quick succession to ensure that Marley shifts her mortal coil with her affairs in order.

Hudson is well cast.

She is naturally outgoing and bubbly, so there is a sobering contrast between her character at different stages of the disease.

However, she shares an inert screen chemistry with Bernal, who doesn't convince for a second as a medic.

Punch is a hoot and Bates lends gravitas to her underwritten supporting role, with a couple of scenes for Whoopi Goldberg as God, or at least how Marley chooses to see the Higher Power.

AXMINSTER £625,000

A very imposing and substantial detached six bedroom Victorian house located in the heart of Axminster with the benefit of a separate detached cottage. The property has a wealth of original character features throughout including fine panel doors, dado panelling, staircase, architraves and skirting boards. The stylish and spacious reception rooms have 10ft high ceilings, typical of the period, and the house makes a superb family home with a separate cottage that could be used for guest or dependent relatives accommodation offices or could provide additional income (subject to planning consent). The property has a huge range of potential options and occupies good size gardens and grounds approaching a 1/3 acre. We understand that the vendors have spoken to the Planning Department at EDDC who have indicated they would be sympathetic to a potential change of use or conversion into apartments. The accommodation includes six bedrooms, master en suite, family bathroom, two separate WCs, drawing room, breakfast room, formal dining room, snug, study, kitchen and utility area. The separate cottage comprises at present living room, kitchen, utility room, bedroom with en suite bathroom, but plans have been approved to extend the accommodation upstairs into the former hay loft and provide a further three bedrooms with three en suites. For more information or to arrange a viewing please contact John Wood & Co 01297 553691.

THE world's most energy efficient car carrier has docked at the Port of Tyne carrying 60 Nissan LEAFs in preparation for the March 1st UK sales launch.

Thanks to its unusual design the City of St Petersburg uses its aerodynamic bow to reduce wind resistance by 50 per cent reducing CO2 emissions by 2,500 tons per year.

Cars will be driven off the ship for distribution to 25 Nissan EV dealerships around the UK.

LEAFs will continue to be imported from Japan until 2013 when production will begin at the Sunderland plant.

The LEAF was awarded 2011 European Car of The Year, the first time an electric vehicle (EV) had ever been nominated in the awards 48 year history, beating 34 combustion engine cars to the title.

As an all electric car, the LEAF produces no tail-pipe pollution or greenhouse gas emissions when in use. It is powered by a lithium ion battery pack, rated at 80 kilowatts — this powers the car to a top speed of over 90mph and can reach 0-60 in less than 10 seconds. It will have a driving range of 109 miles on a full charge.

The LEAF will cost £23,990 when it goes on sale in the UK — this includes a £5,000 government incentive.

● Korean car maker Kia has extended its popular seven year switch programme, and upped the savings by £500 on selected models to £2,000.

For customers with a seven-year-old car, with a maximum of 100,000 miles, they can now swap their old banger for either a new Picanto 1.0 I from just £5,370 or a wider choice from the Rio range from just £6,540.

For those with no car to trade-in the Rio range is available from just £7,995 for the Rio 1.4 I or from £8,995 for the highly-equipped Rio 1.4 Domino which comes with 15" alloys, front fog lights, premium upholstery, leather steering wheel, air conditioning, six airbags and ESC.

● Vauxhall has announced a new Astra model, which the company claims squarely targets similarly-priced five-door hatch rivals from Ford and VW by offering levels of standard equipment and trim not usually seen outside the options list.

Starting at £18,110 for the 1.4-litre Turbo model, the ES Tech comes as standard with a sat-nav system (including CD player, MP3, USB, iPod control, seven speakers and aux-in socket), Bluetooth, a DAB radio, 17-inch alloy wheels and aircon.

This complements the already generous level of standard equipment found in most Astra models, such as curtain airbags, ESP, daytime running lights, cruise control and steering wheel-mounted audio controls.

This is, according to Vauxhall, bad news for the Astra's rivals. Compared with the £800 more expensive VW Golf 1.4 TSI Match, the Astra ES Tech 1.4 Turbo gains sat-nav, in addition to offering an extra 18 horsepower.

For diesel buyers, the Astra ES Tech is available with the 125 horsepower 1.7 CDTi engine, and with sub-120g/km emissions this version is one of Vauxhall's growing range of ecoFLEX models.

Commenting on the Astra ES Tech, Duncan Aldred, Vauxhall's managing director, said: "We know that the competition is fierce in the compact class, so the Astra needs to deliver."

"The new ES Tech models now raise the bar for value and equipment levels in the class and should make buyers think twice before putting their hard-earned cash down on a Ford or VW."

Anderson is right back in cricket club hotseat

PETER Anderson is in his second stint as chairman of Seaton Cricket Club.

He found himself back in the hotseat because of previous chairman Chris Gamwell's forthcoming move up north in April.

Mr Gamwell, who had been chairman for three years, said: "I have been posted to another position in my profession which necessitates the move.

"From a cricket point of view, it is not an ideal time with the season fast approaching and Peter Anderson will take over from me for the rest of the season.

"I have enjoyed my time at Seaton. Whilst the town, like many others, seems to be struggling economically there is much to commend it.

"There are several vibrant clubs encompassing sport, the arts and charitable activities all run by willing volunteers.

"The cricket club is just part of that volunteer sector and the town should be proud of it and all of the other organisations within such a great place to live."

Mr Anderson said he will only be chairman for a year, during which a long-term chairman will be found.

He said: "Chris worked very hard off the field and kept us all together, so he will be missed."

SEATON & DISTRICT CRIB LEAGUE

AS the season draws to a close there is an exciting finish to the league matches.

The Kings Arms have completed their games and are, at present, on the top.

However, if the Royal Clarence can manage a good win on Tuesday, February 15th they will knock them down to second place.

The Golden Hind have the opportunity to also finish near the top.

Good luck to them all.

Captain's Cup

The Captains Cup matches were won by Kingfisher, Eyre Court and Royal Clarence.

Again, it is a tight finish to the season, with several captains in the running with just one more week to go.

Two scores count in better ball fun game for victorious team

Three-Ball Better Ball
ANOTHER Sunday fun game where, should your team not emerge victorious, you could claim it was the other guy's fault.

This time the game was a three-ball better ball with two scores to count, which brought added pressure to those teams that ventured out 'a man light' due to the third name on the sheet cancelling.

The day turned out to be not too bad and the greens were running true if a little slow.

The handy grouping of M Godfrey, S Martin and N Richards ran away with first prize having scored 74 points.

Second were M Blackmore, P Blackmore and S Branch whose 73 points beat G Charleton, J Stamp and D England on count back despite J Stamp greedily holing two twos in the round.

It should also be noted that the two-ball team scored better than quite a few of the three ball teams, but we'll keep that for the clubhouse.

Tuesday Mixed

Last week's competition was Strict Alternate Shots — Medal play.

Trying to hole putts to avoid teeing off on the next hole seemed to be the order of the day. Thank goodness the weather was kind — no wind.

The winning couple with a net 84 were Ro Poole and John Dickinson.

Second place were Chris and John Frith with net 86, which was on count-back on the last three holes, just pipping Jane Watts and Paul Witton who took third place.

Ladies Section

Patchy fog made last week's competition a game of hide and seek in which several ladies were forced to throw in the towel early.

Out of 38 starters only 23 managed to play a full 18 holes and congratulations are due to those ladies who were able to complete the course.

In Silver Division first place went to Sue Ritchie with 32 points and second to Tricia Swindell with 27 points.

Bronze One Division was won by Chris Luttmann with 31 points ahead of Linda Northover with 29 points.

In the Bronze Two Division Sharon Dacre managed a very respectable 35 points with Catherine Hunt on 31 points.

AXE CLIFF GOLF CLUB

LAST Sunday the main club competed in windy conditions for the February Medal.

Division One was won by club captain Richard Gibbons (9) with a nett 71.

In second place, missing out on the count back ruling was Andrew Chambers (3). Division Two was won by Dave Hales (13) with a nett 67 and second place to Shane Brown (15) with a nett 70.

The recent February Stableford with the seniors was played in extremely blustery conditions. Winning by three points, Alan Vincent (22) scored an excellent 36 points.

Second place with 33 points went to Jack Bannister (27), while two players ended with 32 points.

Third spot on countback went to Malcolm Glass (18) with Charles Whitbourn (27) the player to miss out.

Last Wednesday saw the ladies playing their Winter League Number Five competition as a 15 hole Stableford. The winner was Sandra Walker (16) with lady captain Pat Ayshford missing out on the count back ruling.

EAST DEVON SHORT MAT BOWLS

CONGRATULATIONS to Colyton who are the Evening Champions in their first season back in Division One.

The regular return of a couple of players meant that they avoided the usual struggle to adapt to the Division One standard and their 7-1 home win sealed their first place.

Behind them Beer won 6-2, also at home, but the two points were not enough to gain the top place.

They will need one point from their remaining game at Musbury to secure the runner-up place.

Sidbury are already assured of joining them from Division Two next season, and this week will see who will be the other team who will also play in Division One.

The games that were played this week each ended 7-1 to the advantage of the home teams, Sidford and Membury.

In the afternoon Beer won away, 5-3, and strengthened their hold on the top place.

Behind them 7-1 home wins for Upton and Awliscombe "A" moved each up two places to 3rd and 4th.

In Division Two Seaton Cliff "A" increased their margin at the top 7-1 at home, Sidford B won 5-3 away to gain a place and Hemyock gained a point at Musbury.

HONITON HORNETS HOCKEY CLUB

An energetic start

Teignmouth 3
HHHC 2

With only 10 players on the Honiton team against a squad of some 15 girls and a crisp wind blowing, the weekend's match on the South Devon coast got off to an energetic start which tested the visitors' stamina and resilience to the limit.

However, the match was played in good spirits and Honiton managed to contain most of the home side's onslaughts; although quite a number of shots on goal went wide, which gave the visitors some respite.

Nevertheless, Teignmouth succeeded in getting the ball across the goal line on two occasions during the first half.

As the second half started the home side must have felt that it should be able to add substantially to its score since they had the advantage of rolling players; but five minutes into the half it was Honiton's Becky Bond who scored the first of her side's two goals when she slammed the ball at an angle towards the goal.

It clipped the inner edge of the goal post, causing it to ricochet over the goal line into the opposite corner of the goal, before bouncing out again.

Some while later a penalty corner was awarded to Honiton and Sophie George, receiving the pass from Jean Herniman just outside the circle, moved across the line from where she sped the ball towards the goal.

As it travelled it caught a defender's stick, so altering its angle and confusing the home side's defence, passing it across the line and into the back of the net.

It would have pleased Honiton greatly if that had been the extent of the goal scoring since a draw would have been a marvellous result against such a strong side, but the home side was able to add a further goal in the dying minutes of the match.

Practices continue to take place each Tuesday evening from 8pm-9.30pm at Culmpton — by kind invitation of and in conjunction with, Culm Vale Hornets Hockey Club.

Transport leaves from Dowell Street Car Park at 7.30 pm. If any girls (over 16) or ladies, regardless of current skills, would like to join these sessions, and require transport, please be at the meeting place by 7.30pm. You will be made most welcome.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

AT the weekend Liam Roberts raced in the BUCS (British University and Colleges Sports) cross-country championships for the University of Birmingham.

Liam took part in the race as with the top six from each university entered.

The race was won by Carl Smith of the University of Birmingham in 28:20.

Liam covered the hilly course, which was advertised as 8km but measured by GPS at 8.6km, in 31:00 finishing 46th out of 284.

While his strength lies in road running, this is a solid improvement from last year's finish of 96th in the same race and he will be looking for some good results in his last couple of cross-country races of this season.

The first three finishers in February's Junior handicap all broke their personal bests.

First was Alex McLoughlin in 17:28, followed by Max Bowskill, 17:25; Josh Coates 3rd, 13:49; Emily Elliott 4th, 14:20 and Matthew Morbey 5th, 13:22.

It must have been a good night for running as all the top five seniors broke their personal bests as well.

Beth Sibley destroyed her personal best by two minutes winning in 32:42. Sharon Rooke was 2nd, 28:16; Alison Bowskill 3rd, 27:52; Rebecca Creese 4th 28:12 and Tim Sibley 5th, 25:17.

AXMOUTH
FOOTBALL CLUB

AXMOUTH travelled to UAU Exeter on the back of three straight wins taking them to the summit of Division six expecting a tough game with a side on a good run themselves having won their previous four games.

Axmouth were fielding a side without six regulars but still put up a brave fight in what was a very physical encounter that sadly the referee had little or no control over and ended up losing 2-1.

In a game with little decent football on display in preference to long balls and heavy tackles the home side had more of the possession and had a number of corners but it was the away side that had some clear cut opportunities to take the lead especially when awarded a penalty after 25 minutes.

The normally reliable Jamie Hughes stepped up but fired over the bar in what probably could have been the turning point of the game as shortly after the home side broke from another long clearance and cut inside the box to slide home the only goal of the half.

The second half was a repeat of the first with the referee unable to install any discipline. A number of poor challenges and off the ball incidents went un-punished and Axmouth were unable to get any sort of passing game going against a determined home side who eventually scored a second from a well taken opportunity just inside the box.

The league leaders kept pressing and were awarded a second penalty this time duly converted by Hughes but with only three minutes left were unable to find the equaliser.

Manager Laurie Forino said: "We are all bitterly disappointed with the performance today and we never got going, yes we missed several players today but still should have been strong enough to have got something from this game.

"We have the ideal game next week to get ourselves focussed on with the visit of title favourites Exmouth and I know the lads will be really looking forward to it and the return of some of the missing players today we should be back to somewhere near full strength."

DEVON AND EXETER LEAGUE

NEWTOWN are top of the Premier division for the first time in their history after dislodging Seaton Town by an astonishing 7-2.

It was a brilliant display of attacking football from the Newtown St Cyres based outfit although they went a goal down quite quickly and it could have been two. After that Newtown took full charge with Corey O'Donoghue leading the way with a hat-trick. Steve Kerswell (2), Jake Hobbs and Adam Kane also scored as Newtown also reached the half ton of league goals. Miles Alphonse had both Seaton goals.

Topsham Town have appointed former Cullompton manager Lee Annunziata as their new boss and he was at the ground to witness the 2-0 victory at home to Beer Albion. Mark Saunders and Ryan Pym scored for Topsham who were happy to keep yet another clean sheet.

Feniton avenged their defeat at Tipton St John with a 3-2 win, but they were hanging on at the end after looking safe at 3-0. Dan Lewis 2 and Paul Dowling scored for Feniton, Adrain Small with a penalty and Adam Connett replied for Tipton.

Division 3 leaders Pinhoe were edgy 3-1 winners against Upottery, but rivals Chard Town Reserves were held 2-2 by Offwell.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE ROUND-UP

Frenchman saves
Seasiders' blushes

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

WITH the last kick of the game Frenchman Julian Simier saved Lyne Regis' blushes as they nicked a 1-0 win over struggling Perry Street.

The reigning champions struggled on a heavy pitch and against committed opponents and a missed penalty from Mark Bailey in the first half looked like it would prove costly.

"But then we won a corner and there was a blatant hand ball on the goalline to give us a second penalty," said Lyne boss Robin Townsend.

"Julian stepped up to score with virtually the last kick of the game as the ref blew up shortly afterwards."

Townsend paid tribute to goalkeeper Ash Caddy for two outstanding saves and was also impressed by the debut of defender Dave Matthews, who recently switched from Devon and Exeter League side Buckland.

Meanwhile South Petherton stayed top with a 6-0 win over Ilminster Town Reserves with two goals from Richard Hebditch, Lee Richards, Dean Ritchie, Dean Smith and man-of-the-match Jon Hayter.

"I have always said whoever finishes above South Petherton will win the league," said Townsend.

Misterton enjoyed one of their best wins of the season with a 6-3 victory over Merriott Rovers to further dent their promotion hopes.

"We are now unbeaten in six league and cup games so starting to pick up after an unsettled start to the season," said Misterton player-manager Jak Flatt.

Misterton's goals in only their second league win of the campaign came from Neil Hawkins (two), Johnny Jackson, Jerry Hill, Flatt and an own goal.

In Division One sub Mark Jenkins gave Millwey Rise boss Shane Featherstone a selection headache after coming on and scoring a hat-trick in 20 minutes.

Millwey were firmly in control against Forton Rangers when Jenkins came on in the 70th minute but his three-goal impact in a 9-3 win was a reminder of his qualities.

"That's given me something to think about!" said Featherstone.

Sam Dibling also scored a hat-trick and Paul Otreba chipped in with two to keep Millwey firmly in the promotion race ahead of Saturday's visit of third-placed Netherbury.

In Division Three Luso-Chard bounced back to winning way with a 5-0 win over Drimpton, Marco Quedas scoring four and Victor Serreria adding the fifth.

"We were a bit down after losing three in a row so now we'll have to see what happens," said manager John Saraiva, whose side still have an outside chance of promotion.

CALLUM Garrett had an excellent game as Axminster Town secured back-to-back wins for the first time this season.

Just seven days after new boss Nick Ogden had overseen the side's first win of the season in what was only his fourth game in charge since succeeding James Bennett the reinvigorated Tigers won again.

While the six points from six still leaves Ogden's side bottom of the league they are restoring pride and passion to their performances and even if it proves not enough to save them from relegation that augurs well for the future.

The visitors started well but it was Axminster who took the lead with an unlucky own goal from Spurs defender Jack Bristow.

The contest remained evenly poised until Garrett wrapped up the points with a close range strike to cap an impressive all round display.

Steve Mardell struck a late consolation for Spurs to ensure a nervy few minutes but Axminster held on for a confidence-boosting victory.

HONITON
RUNNING CLUB

AFTER a bit of prevarication, Honiton Running Club's Nick Bradley-Carter decided to run in the two-lap Fulford 5miles race in Exmouth last week and was pleased he did.

It was very windy but at least it was relatively warm and didn't rain. He had a good run finishing in 36:32 which was a couple of minutes faster than he did last year and a new personal best for him for this distance albeit by just seven seconds.

Julie Payne completed the all-ladies' Women's Running Network The Better Half Marathon in Exeter last Sunday in particularly grim conditions.

She completed in 1 hour 40 mins which was a personal best for her and she was 9th out of 120 entrants, some of which were relay teams. The winner was Polly Randall Johnson who completed it in 1:33.

Meanwhile, many other Honiton RC members were saving their racing legs whilst training hard. They endured the pouring rain getting the miles under their belts in preparation for spring marathons or The Grizzly.

JUNIOR RUGBY

Honiton U10s 35
Bridport U10s 25

HONITON travelled to Bridport on a miserable wet morning and came away with a solid win.

Praise to the front row for setting the foundations for the team to go forward.

Tries from Luke Bralsford (3) and Jacob Wright (4). Man of the Match went to Oliver Upperdine who captained the side and led from the front, with some tenacious tackling. Thanks to all players and supporters braving the elements.

COLYTON FOOTBALL CLUB

Improved performance wins
Colyton well-deserved point

Devon & Exeter League Division 2
Sidmouth Town Reserves 2
Colyton 2

COLYTON came away from Manstone Lane with a well-deserved point, but it could have been all three.

Coly were on top for large periods of the game but could not find the net despite creating many good goal-scoring opportunities.

When they did hit the target young Sidmouth keeper Robbie Powell produced some exceptional saves to keep his side in the race.

It took until the 42nd minute for Colyton to open the scoring. A great over-lapping run down the left flank by Mike Cullum saw him cut the ball back into the path of Callum Somers who coolly controlled the ball before side-footing into the bottom corner.

Once again, Coly's concentration levels let themselves down as the entire team collectively took their foot off the pedal and allowed Sidmouth to snatch an equaliser in added time at the end of the first half.

Colyton responded well in the second period and soon forced Sidmouth onto the back foot.

On 55 minutes Somers was felled in the area but Cullum's spot kick was poor and the keeper saved, the ball rebounding to Cullum whose fierce drive was again superbly saved by the young keeper.

Coly finally got their noses in front in the 67th minute and it was a beauty.

Paul Millman collected the ball in midfield and cushioned a delightful ball with the outside of his foot into the path of Somers.

Somers raced away towards the goal, weaving around three defenders before curling the ball into the far bottom corner.

With only five minutes remaining, Sidmouth broke away to snatch another equaliser with a very well-taken header.

All season Colyton have been conceding late goals, self-belief suffering and heads go down; the team loses its shape and confidence and fails to shut up shop.

Saturday was a vastly improved performance but the lapses in concentration are really hitting Coly hard — something the players need to work on in the coming weeks.

PROMOTION HOPES ALIVE

Emphatic victory helps boost team morale

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

Devon & Exeter League Division 8
Offwell Rangers Reserves 8
Feniton Thirds 3

OFFWELL manager Alex McCreadie believes this emphatic victory has kept alive his team's hopes of promotion this season.

The side bounced back quickly from defeat against Cheriton the previous week to defeat the visitors, who were leading the table before the match and leave Offwell handily placed in sixth with games in hand as the crucial part of the season approaches.

"We had a reality check last week so this was an excellent win," said McCreadie.

"While we are well behind in games the season is generally going well and hopefully we can still get promotion as we have the top teams to play."

The return of Euan Carnelly, Jason Harris and Harry Hutton to the side was a big boost as was an impressive debut from Harrison Jones, signed from Colaton Raleigh.

Within 10 minutes Ollie Cramer opened the scoring for Offwell with Ian Dure making it 2-0.

But Feniton hit back to draw level before further strikes from Dure and then Liam Spiller, after Cramer's shot had hit the post, to put the home side 4-2 up at half-time.

Feniton struck back again early after the break to give them hope but that only prompted Offwell to step up a gear and take control of the match. Carnelly scored the fifth before Karl Allen scored a terrific sixth.

"Karl hit it from the halfway line and all their goalkeeper could do was watch and admire," added McCreadie.

"It was a goal of the season contender."

Spiller and Hutton completed the scoring to leave McCreadie optimistic for the coming weeks.

"We have a good squad now and have scored more goals — 70 in 15 games — than ever before so we are in a decent position and will have to see what happens," said McCreadie.
